Option 5: MaxCollect

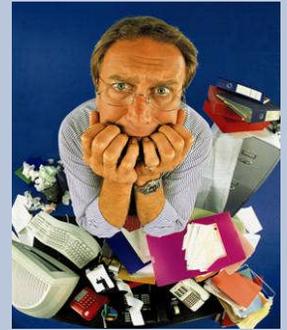

What is MaxCollect?

A series of increasingly demanding collection letters, on your letterhead, directing all payments to you.

The threat of . . .

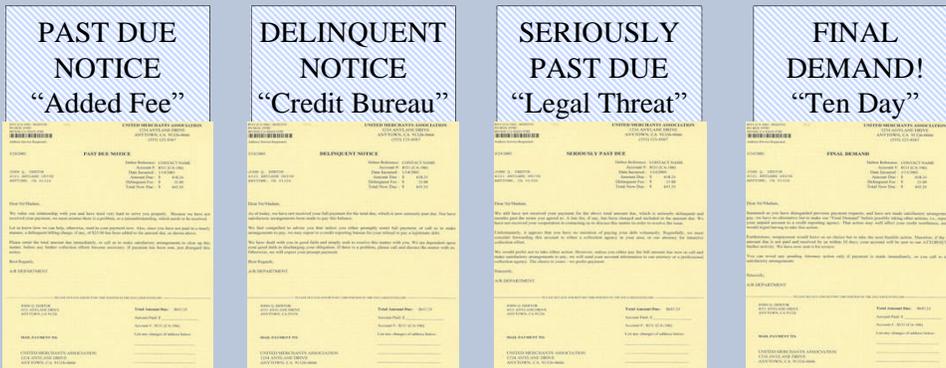

- Credit Bureau Reporting;
- Collection Agency Effort; and/or
- Intensive Attorney Intervention

The impact of an Attorney, who will write a series of highly effective collection letters and make phone calls on your behalf.

How does MaxCollect Work?

1 "IN HOUSE" LETTERS

Four "In-House" letters are sent on your behalf. Each one is more demanding.

2 PHONE CALLS

Debtor is notified by telephone on your behalf.

If still unpaid, account is forwarded to your Attorney for review and action.

3 ATTORNEY LETTERS

Your Attorney sends out three letters on your behalf.

4 ATTORNEY PHONE CALLS

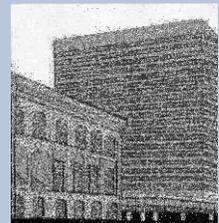

Your Attorney will make Attorney Demands and phone calls for larger debts.

5 LITIGATION

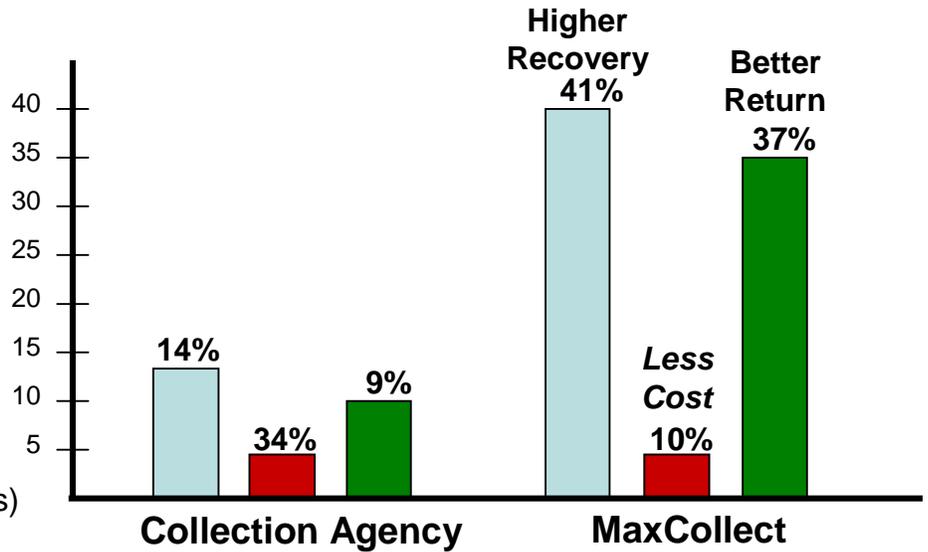

If debt is not resolved to your satisfaction, your Attorney may litigate on your behalf.

6 CREDIT BUREAU

If account remains unpaid, you may choose to report debtor to national credit bureaus.

What are Your Results?

(Based on Same Aging - 6 Months)

Why does MaxCollect Work so Well?

- Why does MaxCollect Collect More?
 - $ It gives creditors more and stronger tools than collection agencies — real threats of harm to credit and of legal action.
 - $ Debtors are contacted earlier in the aging cycle, when they are innately more likely to pay ... so It HAS to collect more.
- Why does MaxCollect Collect Faster?
 - $ There is a greater impact on debtors.
 - $ All the money goes directly to you ... so It HAS to collect faster.
- Why does MaxCollect Cost Less?
 - $ Because, with automation and high volume, we are able to perform our services for less.
 - $ Because we are willing to charge less.

What is Your Cost for MaxCollect?

- One-time/Lifetime Setup Fee of $495.
- $12.95 per account processed, off-set by your delinquent billing fee.
- Servicing Fee based on our “time-driven” fee schedule below:

Days/Aging	1-60	61-120	121-180	181-365	366-731	Attorney
Fee Percent	5%	10%	15%	20%	25%	Phone, etc. 25% Litigation 35%

Why are we Willing to Charge So Little?

- Because we are such warm and wonderful people . . .
- Because we wanted to make it impossible, on the basis of logic and economics, for anyone to fail to take advantage of MaxCollect.

So...

- ...If we really can collect more, and WE CAN;
- ...If we really can collect it faster, and WE CAN; and,
- ...If we really can collect it for little or nothing, and WE CAN;
...then can you think of any reason not to take advantage of it?
